color

The/ portrait will be displayed at the Founders Building reading room area. The Center has designated its library facilities as the Lloyd Berkner Memorial Library.

Mr. Conger made the portrait in the spring of 1965, showing Dr. Berkner at his desk, amid his books. Since then, Dr. Berkner gave most of his personal books and journals to the Center library.

Dr. Berkner died Sunday, June 4, in Washington, D. C. He had been attending a meeting of the National Academy of Sciences, which he served as treasurer. Death came as a result of cardiac arrest.

Mr. Conger's portrait was a first award winner in the June, 1965, annual exhibition of the Texas Professional Photographers Association.

The Berkner family has announced that those who wish to do so may make gifts in Dr. Berkner's memory to the Lloyd Berkner Memorial Library.
