Rachelle Leonard Head Coach

Coach Rachelle Leonard will enter her fifth year as Head Women's Basketball Coach at The University of Texas at Dallas. Leonard will lead the UTD Comets into their first season of play as full members of the American Southwest Conference as well as the NCAA Division III. The team finished at 12-13 overall and had two players named to All-Division squads.

Leonard was the head coach at the University of Dallas for two seasons prior to joining the athletic department at UTD. Prior to her experience at UD, Leonard was the assistant coach for basketball and softball at Washington College in Chestertown, Maryland and at Nicholls State University, in Thibodaux, Louisiana.

Leonard played the first two years of her collegiate career at Coastal Carolina University, a Division I school in Conway, South Carolina. She later transferred to Division II Queens College in Charlotte, North Carolina. She earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte in 1996.

Leonard grew up in Springfield, Ohio. Her father and mother, Richard and Sondra Leonard continue to reside in Springfield.

*Chris Reza
Assistant Coach*

This is Coach Reza's second year with UTD Basketball and first on the women's side. He helped out with the men's program last season as a student assistant. Reza recently graduated with a BS in Interdisciplinary Studies from UTD. He is no stranger to the athletic department, playing basketball for one season, as well as running for the Cross Country team.

Reza is a teacher at Sachse High School where he teaches math. He will coach basketball and golf next fall and has aspirations of coaching at the college or professional basketball level.

Reza is originally from El Paso, Texas and currently resides in Garland.

Larry Gardner is starting his second year as the Head Athletic Trainer at UT Dallas and is no stranger to the athletic training circle. Gardner started out his career at Cal Berkeley and Stanford University in the 60s before his responsibilities took him to the Dallas Cowboys for eight years, including a 1971 Super Bowl win.

Gardner has been in the Dallas area since 1974 in various sports medicine clinics helping rehabilitate those in need of expert training care. He has been the director of such programs as the Sports Medicine Clinic of North Texas and the Tom Landry Center.

Not only experienced in the physical therapy hands-on side, Gardner is well-respected in professional organizations throughout the nation. He was voted into the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) and the Southwest Athletic Trainers Association Halls of Fame in 1989. He received the NovaCare, Inc., Chairman's Award for Excellence in 1996 and has served on the Board of Directors of Mobile Sports Medicine, Inc., as well as the Managing company of Justin Sports Medicine Program for Rodeo and Motorsports since 1983. Gardner has taken his skills to international venues, serving as the Director for both the 1996 World Cup in Dallas and at the Mizuno Training Center during the 1988 Seoul Olympics.

In addition to his credentials, Gardner has also been published numerous times. Gardner has written six articles on aspects of athletic training ranging from shoulder rehabilitation to hip abductors. He resides in Plano with his wife Carol.

UTD

The University of Texas at Dallas was founded in 1969 when civic and industrial leaders Cecil Green, Erik Jonsson and Eugene McDermott, the founders of Texas Instruments, gave the Southwest Center for Advanced Studies to the State of Texas.

UT Dallas grew in a top-down manner: it first offered doctorate and master's degrees before accepting junior and senior undergraduate students in 1975. In 1990, UTD enrolled its first freshman class, offering a new opportunity for Texas high school seniors to study in a rigorous and fulfilling academic environment.

In the past six years, the University of Texas at Dallas has had a growth rate of more than 30% higher than all other Texas Public Universities combined.

- 3rd among Texas public universities in the absolute number of National Merit Scholars for 1999-2000
- 2nd in National Merit Scholars as a Percent of the 1999-2000 Freshmen Class
- 3rd in the Six-Year Graduation Rate (behind UT Austin and Texas A&M)
- 3rd in the Percent of Freshmen in the Top 10% of Their High School Classes (behind UT Austin and Texas A&M)

UTD is the 2nd most selective university in the State of Texas
